

RELIGION 273: Timeline team exercise

Hi. You will work together in teams of 2 (or 3 in one case) during the next several days in preparation for Monday's class to develop a timeline of significant events, figures, and/or themes in the history of relations between Islam and Christianity, based on Goddard's discussion.

There will be three parts to the timeline assignment.

Part One: Make a case for your timeline. What are your selection criteria? On what basis have you identified the events, figures, and themes that you include as significant?

Part Two: Identify three major highlights in your timeline. Write one joint paragraph on each of the three highlights, explaining why you judge it to be especially significant.

Part Three: Based on Goddard's discussion and in light of your timeline, formulate three questions that you will present to the class for further discussion. Each person in your group should contribute one individual question and, working together, each team will also jointly formulate a third question.
